Spiritual Disciplines Guide

Week of March 5, 2023

We will take this week to finish up the book of Proverbs and then take next week to do a thematic survey of the entire book.

The subtitle of Chapter 25 in my Bible reads -- “These are more proverbs of Solomon, copied by the men of Hezekiah, King of Judah”. Hezekiah ruled as king of Judah about 200 years after the reign of Solomon. According to 1 Kings 4:32, Solomon spoke some 3000 proverbs. The book of Proverbs contains about 300 of them. Apparently King Hezekiah selected a number of additional sayings of Solomon and added them to his collection, which at the time, consisted of 24 chapters. He added chapters 25-31, which include chapter 30, the sayings of Agur and chapter 31, the sayings of Lemuel. We are not given more information about who Agur and Lemuel are. These could be two separate men, kings from another place, or, by the meaning of each man's name (Agur = one who assembles and Lemuel = devoted to God), they could be nicknames for Solomon or even Hezekiah. We don't know. What we do know is that Hezekiah, a man of God, determined that their writings should be added to scripture and so they are included in the last two chapters of Proverbs. Look for similarities and any differences in these two chapters to suggest that they are actually Solomon's words or perhaps the word of two other men of God.
