Spiritual Disciplines Guide

Week of June 11, 2023

Having finished reading the book of Chronicles and the accounts of the kings of Judah, let's take a few weeks and look at the messages of several prophets who spoke God's word to these various kings at different times. There are seven prophets who wrote messages to Judah, the Southern Kingdom. Their messages are similar in content, though they vary with the circumstances in the kingdom at the time they wrote. We'll look at each prophet's words and warnings and discern some truths that apply to us today as well.

This week let's read Isaiah's words to Judah found in Isaiah 1-12. He wrote during the administrations of Jotham, Ahaz, Hezekiah and Manasseh, from about 740-680 B.C. His message during this era is primarily an exhortation to turn away from sin and to trust in God over all foreign gods or allegiances. He also writes metaphorically about the ultimate kingdom of God coming to earth. Lastly, you'll see various allusions to the coming ministry of Messiah -- the ultimate King from the lineage of David.
