Bible Reading 2021
Chart the Course
Old Testament
Week of August 8, 2021

We are currently reading through a section of the Bible commonly referred to as Hebrew Poetry. The Hebrews wrote poetry as we do, only they were not interested in rhyming words and counted sentence meter. Hebrew poetry finds its moorings in repetition called parallelism. The Jews commonly would present an idea in one line and then rephrase the same thought in a second and even third line. They would emphasize a truth either by elaborating on it or by contrasting it to another or different idea. So you will see phrases like Show me your ways, O Lord: teach me your paths (Psalm 25:4). Or, A generous man will prosper; he who refreshes others will himself be refreshed (Proverbs 11:25). An example of contrasting ideas is Proverbs 11:27 -- He who seeks good finds goodwill, but evil comes to him who searches for it. The Proverbs are full of contrasting poetry, an idea typically contrasted with the opposite idea. Again, Hebrew poetry typically (but not wholly) consists of parallel thoughts or contrasting thoughts, usually in short, one sentence format. Enjoy the poetic language as you read each day's verses. God will take his ancient truths and embed them into your heart if you will receive them.
