Old Testament
Week of October 17, 2021

Isaiah served as a prophet during the administration of four Jewish kings over a period of almost 60 years. He takes four chapters of his book to feature just one of these kings, Hezekiah. We read about King Hezekiah's reign in 2 Kings 18-20 earlier this year. The Northern Kingdom is falling to the Assyrians and Judah, the Southern Kingdom, is next. Enter Isaiah and his words of comfort and support from God himself! Read these chapters carefully. Imagine the fear Judah was experiencing and their desperation for God's help. Great words of comfort which we can draw from for ourselves today in times of uncertainty or crisis.

The second half of the week we'll pick up with what I deem as some of Isaiah's greatest writings, the 40's! Here he reveals much of just who is God and how great he is! Take note of what God reveals here about himself and be encouraged....He still is in the business of giving strength to the weary and he is still well able to increase the power of the weak. Like ancient Israel, we need to learn how to "wait upon him". And that starts with the quiet and consistent reading and meditating upon his word. Let's do just that as we read together this week!
