Old Testament

Week of February 13, 2022

After one week of reading, we are almost half way through the gospel of Luke. In chapter 1:3, Luke tells us that having investigated everything carefully, he is writing an orderly account. We assume that means he records Jesus' life, teachings and ministry as it occurred chronologically. Last week we covered Jesus' birth, his temptation, the inauguration of his ministry in Nazareth, his collecting disciples, his healing ministry and much of his teaching on the kingdom of God. About chapter 11, the Pharisees and religious leaders of Israel begin to turn up the opposition to his miracles and teaching. You will notice quite a few less miracles in our reading this week and quite a few more parables. Apparently Jesus began to tone down his public outreach in order to hone in on training and preparing his disciples for his coming absence with them physically. Read pensively. Allow the words of Christ to penetrate your soul and to increase your faith (Romans 10:17). We will finish this week's ten chapters with the triumphal entry into Jerusalem and the coming passion of Christ during his last week of ministry.
