Bible Reading 2021
Chart the Course
Old Testament
Week of April 4, 2021

Deuteronomy is the “second law”, a repeat of the law of Moses given at Sinai, this time given to the new generation of Israel shortly before Moses’ death and their entrance into the promised land. We pick up mid-book with many of God’s provisions given to Israel as well as numerous prohibitions. Chapters 27 and 28 remind Israel of the blessings that will follow their obedience and the curses that will come upon them if they disobey God and follow other gods. The book finishes with Moses’ final blessing to Israel, his summing Mount Nebo and his death there in the presence of God. His notoriety in Israel remains as the lone prophet who spoke face to face with God and through whom God performed miraculous signs and awesome deeds before Pharaoh and all of Israel. The first five books of the Bible, still today, bear his name as the Law of Moses.
