Bible Reading 2021
Chart the Course
Old Testament
Week of July 4, 2021

For the last few months we have read the Historical Books of the Bible, Joshua - Esther. These books tell the chronological story of Israel entering the Promised Land, establishing a kingdom with kings, government and temple worship and then eventually losing their land and nation due to disobedience. Ezra and Nehemiah account for Israel's return to the land to reestablish the nation.

For the next several months, we will read the section of scripture known as Hebrew Poetry. Five books -- Job, Psalms, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes and Song of Solomon, are written in poetic form as opposed to straightforward prose. Hebrew poetry is different from our poetry in that it consists not of rhyme but of meter. In other words, the sentence structure in the Hebrew is very different from straight forward narrative. This is not as apparent in English as it would be in the original language. Job, Proverbs and Ecclesiastes are also known as Wisdom Literature.

We will take up this section by reading two chapters from Job and two chapters of Psalms each day. Job deals with the subject of suffering, while Psalms is an ancient hymn book with a variety of song types. Ask God to speak to your heart as you read his word daily.
