New Testament

Week of April 24, 2022

We will take this week to read the second half of the gospel of John. The Apostle John dedicates chapters 11-20 to the last week of Jesus' life. He includes quite a bit of information not included in the other gospel accounts of holy week. Take special notice of John's account of Jesus washing the disciples' feet, his detailed instructions on the ministry of the Holy Spirit in chapters 14-16, the Vine and Branches analogy to fruitfulness and his high priestly prayer in chapter 17. John includes the details of Jesus giving his mother over to John, the presence of Nicodemus (from chapter 3) at the burial of Christ, and Jesus' interaction with Mary Magdalene and Thomas after his resurrection. Finally, John caps off his gospel with Jesus' reinstatement of Peter to leadership in chapter 21. Again, much of John's gospel contains stories and details of Jesus' life that are not included in other gospels. It is supposed that he wrote his account of Jesus' ministry after the other three gospels had been recorded and widely circulated. His concluding words tell us that there is much more to say than what he has written (21:24-25) but that his gospel events are recorded to present Jesus as the Son of God and to promote eternal life in his name (20:30-31).
