Spiritual Disciplines Guide

Week of February 11, 2024

We have taken the month of February to revisit the concept of faith and its importance to us in living the Christian life. Last week we looked at a number of passages that highlighted what faith is and what it looks like. Now, biblical faith is always objective. It depends on its object. And the object of our faith is none other than God himself. While God is wholly reliable and true, humans are fickle and often slow to put their faith in God. This week we'll look at a number of direct revelations of God to different people. In each case God presents himself to someone and calls them to trust and obedience. Take note in each example how God appears, what he reveals about himself and what he calls the individual to do. The better we know who God is and what God does, the easier it is for us as humans to trust him. Ask God to build your own faith in God this week as you discover more of his divine attributes and actions in history. Remember Hebrews 11:6 tells us that without faith is impossible to please God because everyone who comes to him must believe that he exists and that he rewards those who earnestly seek him.
