Spiritual Disciplines Guide

Week of March 3, 2024

From our recent series on faith we are now going to change our focus to a new sermon topic, “The Life and Letters of the Apostle Paul”. Thirteen of the 27 books of the New Testament were written by the Apostle Paul. The books that he wrote are actually letters, mostly written to various churches in Asia Minor and Europe, many of which he was responsible for starting. Four of his letters are also addressed to church leaders. We will start our study in the book of Acts where much of Paul's missionary activity is documented by Luke, the author of Acts. Rather than pick up with Paul's ministry in Acts 13, let's start at the beginning and get a broader view of how the Holy Spirit is working from the time Jesus ascends to heaven until Paul appears on the scene in Acts chapter 9. Take note of the individuals and activities highlighted in each of our chapters in this week's readings. We today have much to learn from the original church at Jerusalem and their outreach into the neighboring countries.
